

5150 Camosun Street, Vancouver

$4,499,000

You wake on Sunday morning to the smell of freshly baked croissants coming from your Bosch oven. Your children are playing video games in your large family room while your university aged child sleeps in the nanny suite. Your partner sips their morning coffee in the heated outdoor room. After making breakfast on your industrial gas range, your family go for a relaxing bike ride across the street in the UBC endowment lands. Returning home, your kids jump into the warm outdoor spa to cool off. Your partner heads upstairs to relax in the steam shower while you suntan on your private roof-top garden deck. That evening you have friends over for dinner. Creating a feast is simple in your industrial grade kitchen & after dinner guests retire to the backyard & relax around the natural fire pit.
